

Murder Mystery

How about an evening of audience participation entertainment that serves as an icebreaker, while combining camaraderie with fun and intrigue? Everyone in the audience plays detective. In addition, several audience members (provided with appropriate props) get to play murder suspects. Professional actors help keep everyone guessing who the killer might be. Shows can be adapted to any setting and scripts can include references to your company, products/services, or even competitors.

Song Lists: